P-TA Membership Drive Started

October is membership enrollment month for the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Canyon P-TA has begun a campaign for members.

Each pupil in school has been given a letter for his parents, which asks that the parents join the organization. Membership fees are 35 cents per parent, according to Roy N. Byrd Jr., membership co-chairman.

Parents should send the fees to the school by their children, Byrd said. He emphasized that the cost is 70 cents if both parents join.

Oct. 16 to 25 has been set aside by proclamation of Gov. Allan Shivers as Teacher Appreciation Week in Texas.

Byrd has asked that parents should send their membership fees back to the school by Oct. 15.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Darst last week were Mrs. Darst's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ayers, and a brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Ayers, all of Sherman.

Three Programs Planned for Year

More than 100 solicitors began yesterday gathering memberships for the Canyon Community Concerts Association in a whirlwind four-and-one-half day drive that ends at noon Saturday.

The workers attended a kick-off dinner at the college cafeteria Monday night, where they were presented kits containing membership blanks, descriptive literature and a book of artists available through the national association.

Memberships in the association cost $6 for adults and $3 for students. The program for the year will not be selected until memberships are sold.

Single admission tickets will not be available for the three concerts planned this year. The plan of not selecting artists for the programs until after memberships are sold is used because the association does not know how much money will be available.

However, a reciprocal agreement with the concert association in Plainview has been worked out. Those who are members of the Canyon association may attend concerts in Plainview by presenting membership cards.

A concert in Plainview Saturday night will feature Eleanor Steber, celebrated Metropolitan Opera star. Canyon members may attend the concert free of charge.

The Canyon association will also attempt to work out reciprocal agreements with associations in Clovis, Pampa and Childress, it was announced Monday night.

Membership in the association entitles the owner to attend the concerts which will be presented here. The artists will be selected by the board of directors, and dates for the concerts will be set and announced later.

The amount of money collected in the drive will determine the class of artists to be selected and will decide the number of concerts for the year. However, the association has promised at least three concerts.

Headquarters for the membership drive is the Ex-Student office in the Student Union Building at the college. Milton Morris is campaign chairman.

Distinguished Military Students

Water Buffaloes Fly to Arizona After 3 Swimming Meets Here

West Texas State's Buffaloes remained as the only undefeated, untied and unscored-on college football team in Texas this week after their crushing 34-0 win over Midwestern University Saturday night in Buffalo Stadium.

Coach Frank Kimbrough's squad will risk its spotless record against one of the most dangerous foes—University of Arizona—Saturday night at Tucson. It will be the Herd's first road trip of the young campaign.

The 40-man entourage will leave Amarillo airport at 9:15 p. m. Thursday and will remain overnight in Phoenix. Friday morning, the group will take a bus to Tucson and work out there in the afternoon.

Game time Saturday night is 9 p. m. (CST), and it will be aired to Panhandle listeners over station KAMQ of Amarillo.

The Buffaloes looked extremely sharp Saturday night as they rolled with unexpected ease over Dick Todd's veteran club from Wichita Falls.

The winners jumped into a 13-0 first quarter lead and topped 34-0 at the half.

A driving rainstorm hit the stadium near the end of half-time activities and the entire last half was played in a steady downpour. Coach Kimbrough played his regulars less than a half and only the reserves got soaked in the last two quarters of action.

Joe Walden, the Buffs' money player who has been getting the yardage when they most need it, was the big fireworks Saturday. He gained 120 yards in 10 carries and scored three of the Buffs' five touchdowns.

Walden registered the winners' first three six-pointers. After Dub Cleveland had recovered a Midwestern fumble on the Indian 17 on the second play of the game, the Buffs drove to the first score in three plays. Walden went the last 10 yards through left tackle.

The next score came with 5:27 left in the first period. With it third down and six yards to go, Hillman dropped back and tossed a 13-yard lob to Walden who took the ball on the one and ran over. Archie Souter's extra point kick was good.

Walden zipped for 37 yards on an outstanding run for the third score early in the second quarter. With 6:53 left in the half, Hillman broke through the middle and ran 66 yards for the fourth Buff TD. Souter booted the extra point to make it 26-0.

The second West Texas eleven went into the game and wasted no time notching another touchdown. On second down, Jack York tossed a perfect strike to Dean King, an end, in the paydirt area to cover 28 yards.

The final West Texas scoring came with 1:46 remaining in the half. Jackie Weldon, Indian quarterback, went back into punt formation on fourth down.

However, the snap from center sailed over his head and when he recovered the ball in the end zone he was promptly spilled by tackle Harold Lamb for a two-point safety.

Midwestern's strongest threat came in the first quarter when the visitors drove to the West Texas 30 yard line, thanks to a nice 40-yard sprint by quarterback Weldon.

Final statistics:

Mrs. N. A. Croson, Mrs. Ed Harrell and Mrs. Newton Harrell traveled to Petersburg last Wednesday to visit Mrs. Austin Fulin.

1,514 Students On WT Campus

Fall enrollment at both the Amarillo Center of West Texas State College and the Canyon campus has surpassed expectations, President James P. Cornette has announced.

Combined enrollment is 2,783, climbing beyond the anticipated 2,600.

On the final night of enrollment at Amarillo Center Monday, the 1953 record of 1,245 was passed, and 1,269 were signed for night classes.

Another all-time high of 1,515 full-time students on the campus in Canyon have been registered.

The combined total of part-time and full-time students, is more than 400 larger than the previous high set last fall, when 2,379 were enrolled.

This year's student body at Canyon is about 23 per cent larger than the 1,235 enrolled last fall. Previous record for the Canyon campus was set in 1949, when 1,336 registered.

The increase in Canyon is due to a larger freshman class and to an unusually large number of transfer students, Dr. Cornette said.

Education Teachers Attend Conference

Three members of the West Texas State College education department will attend the annual conference of the Texas Association of School Administrators in Austin Sunday and Monday.

They are Dr. J. B. Roberts, head of the department; Dr. Emmitt Smith, professor; and Normand Madore, instructor.

Three Teachers Attend Conclave

Three members of the West Texas State College speech department will attend the annual convention of the Texas Speech Association in Abilene Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Crannell Tolliver, head of the WT department, will participate on a panel Saturday, discussing voice and diction and the fundamentals speech course in college.

Also appearing on a panel will be Dr. Jack Walker, associate professor of speech. He will talk on the fundamental high school speech course from the college viewpoint. Dr. Wendell Cain, assistant professor, will also attend the conference.

Among speakers is Thomas Rousse, president of the Speech Association of America. Sessions will be held on speech training and teacher preparation, theatre production problems, speech activities, oral interpretation, speech and hearing pathology, and radio and television production.

Soggy City Has Rainy Weekend

Coming just in time to provide a mud bath for the WT-Midwestern football players, a weekend of rain brought 1.15 inches of moisture to Canyon.

Measurements include 1.00 inch Saturday and .15 of an inch Sunday.

Another drizzle kept streets and sidewalks wet for several hours Tuesday.

Spending the winter with Mrs. N. A. Croson while attending West Texas State are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gum and Dorothy Sparks.

Eagles Open Conference Play

Fresh from a 59-6 swatting of the Tulia Hornets, the Canyon High School Eagles will open their District 1-AA season against the Perryton Rangers Friday night in Perryton.

"They will easily be the best team we've met all season," Canyon Head Coach Guy Harrison said Tuesday.

The coach pointed out the well balanced team Perryton has, with a line averaging 165 and a backfield averaging 155 pounds. He said the three Ranger running backs will all be playing together for the first time this season.

Previously, the first string backfield members have been injured at different times, and have not had a chance to play in a game at the same time.

The Eagles will be in good physical shape for the Ranger game, the coach said.

Perryton uses a variety of offensive systems, including straight T formation, split T, single wing and spread. Coach Harrison said they might use any of the formations at any time.

Perryton's season record includes two wins and one tie, with an open date last week. The Rangers started the year with a 38-13 win over Panhandle, followed with a 13-13 tie with Canadian and then beat Sayre, Okla., 50-6.

Canyon's record includes a 7-2 loss to Floydada, a 33-6 win over Panhandle, a 52-0 win over Muleshoe and the win over Tulia.

The Eagles were way ahead in every department when the game was over. They had 424 yards gained rushing to Tulia's 82; 20 first downs to 11; and even more yards penalized—100 to 65.

Don Britain led in scoring with four touchdowns. Charles Neblett followed closely with 17 points, including two touchdowns and five extra points.

Leonard Miller, Edward Boydston and Arthur Pruett had one touchdown each.

Tulia kicked off to Canyon at the beginning of the game, and Neblett returned from the Canyon 12 to the 49. Britain carried seven yards to the Tulia 44 and Harlie Adams ran to the Tulia 20.

Britain made it to the 17, attempted another run which was called back by a penalty that put the ball on the 21. Britain ran to the 17, then Boydston picked up eight to the 8. Adams ran to the one.

Neblett punched through the line for the score and made the extra point when the game was only 3:16 old.

Tulia returned the kickoff to their own 20, then fumbled on the first play on the 22.

Neblett passed to Miller who ran over for the second score, some 40 seconds after the first. Neblett's conversion attempt was no good.

Tulia returned the kickoff to the Tulia 35, ran three plays to the 41 and kicked to the Canyon 22.

Adams ran the kick back to the 41, then ran on the first scrimmage play to the Tulia 46. A penalty put the ball back on the Canyon 39.

Boydston ran to the 44, Neblett attempted a pass, then ran to the Tulia 33. Britain made it to the 30.

Adams attempted a running pass, then ran to the 11.

Britain made the remaining yardage for the third score with 3:57 left in the first quarter. Neblett's conversion was good, making the score 20-0.

Tulia returned the kickoff to the 24, made one play to the 26 and fumbled on the 25.

Britain ran to the 20, Boydston to the 18, Ruthart to the 10, then to the 6, and Britain ran over for a touchdown which was called back. A penalty put the ball on the 21.

Boydston made it back to the 19 and Neblett attempted a pass.

While attempting to throw a second pass, Neblett caught an opening and ran the 19 yards for the fourth score, just seven seconds into the second quarter.

His conversion attempt was no good, the ball bouncing off the goal post. It bounced off the goal a second time, after the sixth touchdown.

The kickoff was taken on the six and run back to the 12. A penalty put it on the 17, and Tulia halfback Byron Lewis took it to the 27. Quarterback George Washington ran it to the 34, attempted a pass, then Chris Ward ran for no gain.

Lewis kicked to the Canyon 26. The ball was fumbled, then recovered. Adams ran to the 37, Britain attempted a pass, and Adams ran to the 46.

Boydston took the ball next and fumbled and lost it on the line of scrimmage.

After a series of downs good for only four yards, Tulia kicked to the Canyon 30, and Neblett ran back to the 37.

Adams ran six to the 43, Neblett attempted a pass and Britain ran to the 47. Neblett threw his second good pass of the evening to Adams for a 22-yard gain to the Tulia 31.

Britain took to the 23 and a penalty moved the ball back to the 36. Adams ran back to the 25.

Britain ran the ball the 25 yards needed for the fifth score and Neblett's extra point was good to make the score 33-0 with 3:46 left to play in the half.

Even with the aid of 20 yards of penalties, Tulia was unable to work the ball further than the Canyon 38 in their first series of downs after the kickoff, and Lewis punted to the Canyon 9.

Britain ran from the 9 to the 20, then Boydston fumbled at the line of scrimmage.

As the second quarter ended following a series of pass attempts and short runs, Tulia was making the first scoring threat of the game. The Hornets had worked to ball to the Canyon 6.

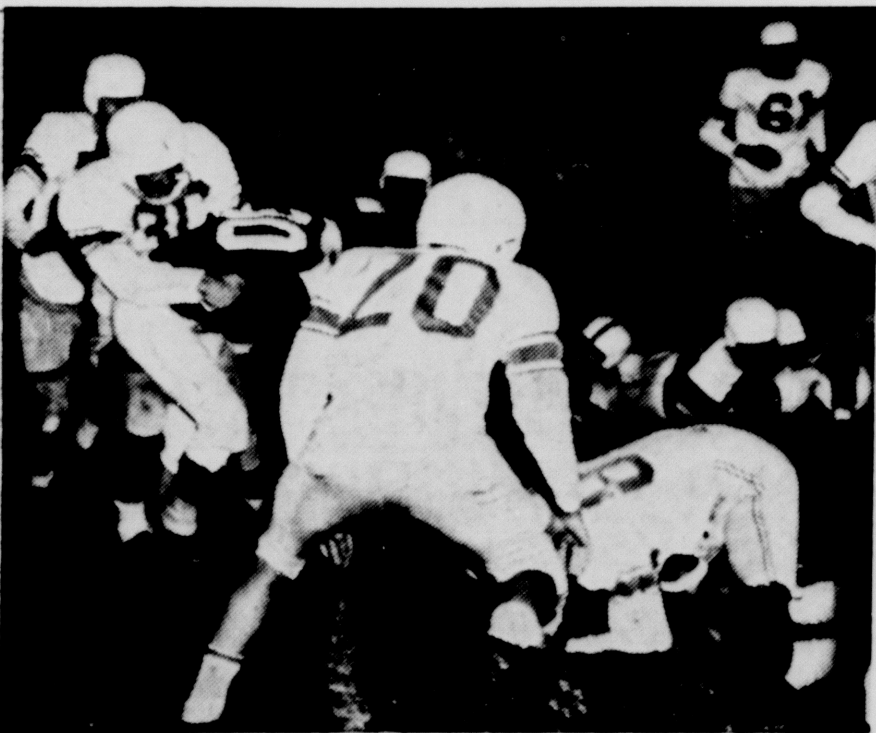

After halftime, Tulia fumbled on their own 24 on the first play from scrimmage and set up the sixth Eagle score.

Adams ran to the 12, then Britain took the ball the remaining yards. Neblett's conversion was good and the score was 40-0 (Con't. on Back Page Section 1)

Around the Town..

By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick

Leaving Canada we boarded our ship the S. S. Waterman. The S. S. Waterman is not a luxury ship, but we were comfortable; the meals were good and nicely served.

The first day on board we were called for lifeboat drill, shown how to put on our life belts and how to go to our lifeboat. There were 805 passengers aboard and 204 crew members. In the crew were 100 Europeans, 100 Javanese (the Javanese are a small dark people not much over five feet tall), and four Chinese.

During the war the Waterman was used as a troop ship and carried soldiers. It carried 1500 to 3000 soldiers. All the lounge and recreation rooms were made into berths and the soldiers relayed for sleeping. As soon as one man piled out of his berth another piled in.

Down on the lowest deck are two dormitories where college students, Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. young people were traveling.

The ship carried 15,000 tons of water and 14,000 tons of oil. It was an interesting experience living on a ship for nine days without a sight of land.

We sailed up the St. Lawrence River for two days but could not see land. All of us enjoyed our trip on the ship, but I think we all decided there was too much water in the ocean.

We landed at Southampton and took the train from there to London. This was a through fast train that did not stop once on the two hour trip to London.

As soon as the train started we were served "English tea." Trays were brought to us with thin sliced white and whole wheat buttered bread, little pots of apricot and black currant jelly, fruit cake, sugar cookies and hot tea.

Before we were away from the wharves we began to see and marvel at the beautiful flowers for which England is famous. It is said that England has more flowers than any country in the world. Whether this is true or not I do not know, but certainly they have flowers growing everywhere.

Even downtown in London the light posts have three tiers of circular flower boxes placed one above the other, while every store and building has flower boxes in the windows with beautiful flowers of many colors and such vivid hues. They have many different blue flowers that are lovely. But, to us, nothing in England was as beautiful as the country side.

This, to us, little country, for it is about the size of Alabama, has so much more land under cultivation than would seem possible in a country so thickly populated, so many large parks, so much timber land and forests, so many beautiful trees growing in the fields. These fields seemed so small to us.

When we asked, we were told that the average farm is 2, 5 or 10 acres. We saw many cattle, sheep, pigs and chickens.

All of our tours in England, except one trip up the Thames River, were made by bus. Thus we were able to see much of the country.

It was these drives we enjoyed as much as the castles, cathedrals and palaces because here we saw how the people live today.

The first castle we visited was Warwick, which is said to be one of the finest specimens of feudal architecture in England.

The building of this castle was begun about 1010. It has been added to many times until today the castle walls and towers enclose in the great court a space about four blocks long and about three blocks wide. We approached it by walking through a winding avenue, cut through solid rock, the walls being about six feet high. Above it trees tower and vines almost cover the walls.

We were told that when Warwick was built the Warwicks owned half of England, but the estate has dwindled until today the present Lord has only 1000 acres which he and his son farm.

The castle is open to the public now and from six to ten thousand people pass through it daily.

We were taken through the chapel where a blind soldier told us some of the history of the Warwicks and explained the paintings on the walls. From here we went through the Hall where many portraits of the Warwicks are hanging to the dining room with its many beautiful paintings.

In this room hangs Van Dyck's famous Portrait of Charles I. on horseback. Over the mantle is a picture of Two Lions painted from life by Rubens. There are many other famous paintings in this room.

The dining table had 24 tapestried chairs around it. From here we went to the Great Hall, a room 62 feet long, 40 feet wide and with a ceiling 40 feet tall.

It has a deep wainscot of paneled oak and around the walls are the battle-axes, spears, and suits of armor once worn by the family. The floors are of red and white marble.

Next was the Red Drawing Room. A magnificent room 30 feet long that is curtained and the walls upholstered in old Italian silk.

This room has one picture by Raphael, one by Rubens and two by Van Dyck. There is an outstanding portrait of The Rt. Hon. Francis Evelyn, Countess of Warwick, life size, by Carolus Duran.

The Marble Mantelpiece, by Adams, is very beautiful and is said to be the only specimen of the kind in England.

Then there was the Green Drawing Room, 29½ feet long and 24 feet wide. It is paneled and painted with green and gold and has many famous paintings by Rubens and Van Dyck.

We were shown through the Cedar Drawing Room which is paneled in cedar wood, elaborately carved. The carpet in this room is a very fine Aubusson, with the Warwick Bear worked on it. Five very fine lustre chandeliers hang from the ceiling of this room.

Next was Queen Anne's Bedroom which is hung with very beautiful Brussels tapestry illustrating gardens.

The State Bed is hung with velvet and damask, with the Royal Crown embroidered and the initials A. R. below. This bed belonged to Queen Anne, as did also the chairs and stools in the room. Over the mantelpiece in a full length portrait of Queen Anne.

Next was the Blue Boudoir, the walls of which are hung with blue damask and almost covered solid with many famous paintings by great artists of the past.

All of these rooms open together by huge double doors which reach to the ceiling, giving a view of the entire length of this part of the castle, which is open to the public. The part where the Warwick's live is not open to the public, nor are many other parts of the castle.

The walls and towers are high, some of the towers rising seven stories.

We left Warwick, our first castle, filled with wonderment that people so long ago could conceive, plan and build such a magnificent establishment that could stand through the years.

We were to see many castles much larger, more stately and magnificent than Warwick, but none that impressed, at least Patricia and I, as much as this one.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan McDonald left Friday for an overland trip to Pittsburgh, Pa., where they will visit with Mrs. McDonald's sister on their way to meet their son, Dick, his wife and two months old baby, Melvina Marie, who will arrive in New York Oct. 7. Dick has been in the service in England for the last two years.

It will be the first time his parents have met his English wife and baby. Dick brought his wife and baby to meet the Canyon party while we were in London and we found them charming and are looking forward to welcoming them to Canyon.

They will stop in Little Rock on their way home to visit another sister of Mrs. McDonald's, Dick plans to enroll in West Texas State and work on his M.A. degree.

The Pyracantha are very beautiful now. Their lovely berries make a spot of beauty everywhere they are.

There are three especially beautiful ones right now. One at the E. T. Cummings home, 1301 Fifth Ave., one at the Richard Ziegler home, 1001 Fifth Ave., and one at the L. L. Byars home, 400 Tenth St. Mrs. Byars says she keeps hers trimmed using the berries for winter decorations in her home.

Mrs. Glenn Dowlen received a letter from Mrs. C. E. Tightower of Dallas saying the Hightower's son, Loren, will be appearing on television for another season. He will be on the same show he appeared on last season, Max Liebman's Spectaculars.

Loren has just returned from a tour in Europe where he had a wonderful time.

Loren is another Canyon boy who is winning honors in his chosen profession.

The Allied Youth Council of Amarillo High School has taken up the crusade to reduce the beer can litter along our highways.

The job of cleaning up beer cans, Coke cups, empty cigarette packs, and other trash along our highways thrown out by unthinking riders is not only unsightly but takes trucks and manhours every week picking it up. Their time could be spent on highway maintenance.

These youths suggest that the drive-ins and service stations who sell these items furnish the buyers with paper sacks to put the litter in. If cars can be furnished with ash trays why can't they be furnished with a place to put trash?

With people eating and drinking in their cars like they do now, a place to put the containers and wrappings, besides throwing them out of the window, is necessary.

Congratulations to the Allied Youth Council for this much needed movement. Let's hope it spreads.

A letter from Pierre Jacquet, the boy from France brought to Canyon last year by the Rotary Club, says he is now enrolled in the University of Wisconsin in Madison. He will study there for about 10 months and will do some traveling over the U. S., and is hoping he can come to Canyon again next semester.

Pierre is a graduate student on a scholarship given him by the French Government.

The Canyon group was disappointed in not seeing Pierre when we were in France, but he was already on his way to the U. S.

At the ground breaking ceremony for the new educational addition to the Methodist Church Sunday morning two little boys who regularly attend most of the services of the church stood with rapt faces holding in their hands two branches of sumax. They reminded Miss Moss Richardson of the children who carried the palm leaves in their hands as they sang "Hosanna!"

Dr. L. F. Sheffy gave a very interesting talk at Rotary Tuesday on "our" trip abroad. He used as his title, "Innocence Abroad." If I give what I say a title it will have to be "Ignorance Abroad." Mrs. Clay Cooper and I attended Rotary and enjoyed Dr. Sheffy's talk about the places we visited. He told about the difficulty we had in getting drinking water.

It seems Americans are the only people who drink water. Dr. Sheffy said we were forced to drink Coca-Cola, wine and beer.

Of course the women of the group soon found we could buy bottled water which was safe to drink. It was, however, more expensive than Coca-Cola, wine or beer. Could be that was why the men didn't drink it?

Mrs. C. H. Dillaway of Boston is visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, and with friends in Hereford where Mr. Dillaway was superintendent of schools.

Book Club Panel Talks on Pioneers

The Junior Woman's Book Club opened the new year Sept. 9 with a panel discussion of "Life of the Pioneers" in keeping with the year's study of "Golden Spread Tableau." The meeting was held in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Mrs. Ed Harrell was a special guest on the panel which included Mrs. R. B. Gist, moderator, Mrs. Bernard Warren, Mrs. Roy Byrd Jr., and Mrs. Albert Craig. Mrs. Harrell discussed the activities and conditions of the early settlers on the plains.

Mrs. Gist, moderator, told of the early homes which were usually dugouts with thatched roofs and dirt floors. In explaining the religion of the pioneers, Mrs. Byrd said the courthouse served as a church on Sunday, school on weekdays and a place for dances on Saturday nights.

Mrs. Craig related incidents that happened in connection with the schools. She also said most of the children had horses for transportation and it was necessary to build a high fence around the school to keep horses off the playground.

Previous to the program, a business meeting was held with Mrs. Helen Taylor, vice president, in charge. Mrs. Dorothy Byrd announced the election of new members for the next meeting. Members are urged to bring suggestions for a fund raising project to the meeting Oct. 14.

Present were Mrs. Ellsworth Barnard, Mrs. Bob Bellah, Mrs. Bob Black, Mrs. Roland Black, Mrs. Harry Brown Jr., Mrs. Jozach Byrd, Mrs. Roy Byrd Jr., Mrs. Emilio Caballero, Mrs. Wesley Cox, Mrs. Albert Craig, Mrs. Weldon Hager, Mrs. Richmond Hales, Mrs. Luther Lawless.

Census Report Shows More County Farms, Larger Size, Higher Value

A preliminary census report for 1954 shows there were more farms in Randall County than in 1950, and the average size is larger. The report shows there were 680 farms last year and there were 567 in 1950. The average size of farms in 1954 was 814.7 acres. The average 1950 size was 772.5 acres.

The farms were worth more, too. The average value of land and buildings per farm last year was $73,113, while 1950's average was $58,978. The average per acre value last year was $85.96.

By size, Randall County farms range from 45 farms under 10 acres to 134 farms over 1,000 acres. The largest single group lies between 500 and 999 acres, and there are 174 of them.

Of the 680 farms, 332 are operated by the full-owner, 166 by part owners, six by managers and 166 by tenants.

Many farmers have all the conveniences that city dwellers have. Those who own home equipment include 412 with telephones, 590 with electricity, 379 with television sets, 617 with piped running water and 382 with home freezers.

Farm equipment machines owned include 14 electric pig brooders, 301 power feed grinders, 91 milking machines, 377 grain combines, three corn pickers, 68 pickup hay balers, 38 field forage harvesters and 129 farms have artificial ponds, reservoirs and earth tanks. Five-hundred and fifty farms have 988 trucks, 575 farms have 1,485 tractors, 560 farms have 771 automobiles.

The report shows 78 farms are operated without tractors, horses or mules, 10 with no tractor and one horse or mule, 166 with all three, and 409 with tractor alone.

In 1954, 1,408 persons were engaged in agriculture, including 603 operators and 373 unpaid members of their families.

The largest single expenditure in the county in 1954 was for feed—a total of $855,526. Second was gasoline and other fuels—$709,482. Labor expenditures amounted to $554,143 and machine hire cost $345,447.

Only 94 farms reported using commercial fertilizer in 1954. The farmers bought 742 tons costing $71,773, and it was spread over 11,382 acres.

Most of the fertilizer was put on cropland of all types, some 10,667 acres, while the remainder was put on pastureland—except for 205 acres of corn.

In 1950, there was one fruit and nut farm in the county, but it was gone in 1954.

Last year there were 373 cash grain farms, 71 dairy farms, five poultry farms, 92 livestock farms and 27 general farms. There were also 95 unclassified farms.

Of the 568 commercial farms in the county last year, 117 sold products valued at $25,000 or more, 166 valued at $10,000 to $24,999, 106 valued at $5,000 to $9,999, 137 valued at $2,500 to $4,999, and 42 sold products valued at less than $2,500.

The dairy industry in the county is growing. In 1950, 1,226,507 gallons of milk and 70,868 pounds of butterfat were sold.

Last year, 1,875,109 gallons of milk worth $760,402 were sold, and 39,509 pounds of butterfat worth $15,625 was also sold.

The report shows a 50 per cent decline in the dollar value of animals sold alive between 1950 and 1954. Total value of all animals sold alive in the county last year was $2,006,966, while the 1950 value was $4,023,311.

Of the animal sale total, cattle stood at the top. The total cattle sale was $1,867,244.

Last year was not a good wheat year in the county, but some 1,408,490 bushels were combined. The county also produced 5,174 tons of alfalfa hay.

Elected were: president, Margaret Wilkinson; vice president, Susie Conatser; secretary, Louise Dawson; treasurer, Omalie Lowrey; and council delegate, Bessie Faye Marshall.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Abraham Lincoln is reputed to have said "You can fool part of the people all the time, all the people part of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

It is not by accident that Congressional Committees are now closely studying the activities of the enforcement of the nation's anti-trust laws.

Nor is it perhaps just chance that Edward Howard, whose appointment to that office was opposed by the National Federation of Independent Business has resigned as chairman of the Federal Trade Commission.

In fact, it might even be established with some degree of probability that Attorney General Herbert Brownell performed a great service for independent business in this nation when he appointed the Attorney General's Committee to Study the Anti-Trust Laws.

The majority recommendations of this august body were so heavily in favor of weakening, or eliminating the protection given by the nation's anti-trust laws that so much smoke was raised many Congressmen decided to look for the fire.

By and large, Congressmen have a common peculiarity. They hate to be fooled. In addition, they are Americans adhering to the American traditions which include from Mississippi river boat days to the gold rush days of the West the looking with askance on stacked decks.

It was therefore quite natural that one of the first things the Senate Small Business Committee took up when making a study of the Attorney General's special committee on anti-trust laws was to find out just who was on committee that so wholeheartedly impugned anti-trust laws.

It is important to remember it was a 61 member committee. Here is the breakdown.

Of the 61 members 33, or a clear majority, were corporation attorneys who together have fought the government in the past few years in a total of 223 anti-trust actions. Some of the biggest domestic and international firms were their clients in these cases. Four other members were college professors who have appeared as "expert" witnesses for corporations involved in anti-trust proceedings.

This line-up, to say the least, rather provoked Congressional curiosity, especially as findings of this group were quite critical of anti-trust laws.

In fact, Congressional attitude might be compared to that which would exist among racing judges if a hotly contested race between twelve horses finished in a dead heat. While those racing judges might not come right out and say that there was tomfoolery in the stables before the race, they would be mighty curious, and would do some looking around.

And that probably best explains why at present time Congressional committees are looking into anti-trust matters so deeply.

Right now, Congressmen are not talking about any tomfoolery, but things are coming to light which are making them curious and curiouser. In time, it could develop that the corporation lawyers who composed majority of this committee made the mistake of forgetting the Allician admonishment that runs "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

of the Attorney General's special committee on anti-trust laws was to find out just who was on committee that so wholeheartedly impugned anti-trust laws.

It is important to remember it was a 61 member committee. Here is the breakdown.

Of the 61 members 33, or a clear majority, were corporation attorneys who together have fought the government in the past few years in a total of 223 anti-trust actions. Some of the biggest domestic and international firms were their clients in these cases. Four other members were college professors who have appeared as "expert" witnesses for corporations involved in anti-trust proceedings.

In fact, Congressional attitude might be compared to that which would exist among racing judges if a hotly contested race between twelve horses finished in a dead heat. While those racing judges might not come right out and say that there was tomfoolery in the stables before the race, they would be mighty curious, and would do some looking around.

And that probably best explains why at present time Congressional committees are looking into anti-trust matters so deeply.

Right now, Congressmen are not talking about any tomfoolery, but things are coming to light which are making them curious and curiouser. In time, it could develop that the corporation lawyers who composed majority of this committee made the mistake of forgetting the Allician admonishment that runs "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

By and large, Congressmen have a common peculiarity. They hate to be fooled. In addition, they are Americans adhering to the American traditions which include from Mississippi river boat days to the gold rush days of the West the looking with askance on stacked decks.

It was therefore quite natural that one of the first things the Senate Small Business Committee took up when making a study

SOMETHING ADDED

Cleaning and dyeing establishments undertaking to dye uniforms for civilian wear have reported some rather unusual requests from ex-soldiers. One of the most novel was offered to a firm in Memphis.

"I understand," said a young ex-Gi, "that you dye uniforms." "Yes, we do, in several colors," was the reply.

"Well," said the patron, "suppose you dye this one brown with a pin stripe."

The first American newspaper outside Boston was the American Weekly Mercury, founded in Philadelphia Dec. 22, 1719, by Andrew Bradford.

Happy Lions, P-TA Have Joint Party

A "get acquainted" session sparked the second annual Happy Lions-P-TA joint meeting last week in Happy.

The two clubs entertained the school faculty with a barbecue dinner donated by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bradford.

More than 120 persons attended, and 98 paid dues to the P-TA for the coming year.

Louis Pippin, music teacher, led the group in a sing-song, with Len Fore at the piano. The pledge of allegiance was led by Fore.

The Rev. Charles Cox gave the invocation. Pres. J. L. Driskill welcomed the guests and Supt. Sam Bryan introduced the school principals, who introduced faculty members.

Dr. G. L. Robinson was presented a gift for his help in the summer round-up.

During the "get acquainted" session two games were played with Mrs. Crews Henry as leader. Mrs. Frank Tirey and Pippin were winners of the first game, and Mrs. Raymond Poage and Mrs. Marlan McManigal won the second.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Mines and Mining

Another item of prime interest in the coming year will be the domestic mines problem. This is a subject on which we have several schools of thought.

Most of the experts are in agreement on a list of approximately 77 raw materials, including mineral and material resources, which are classed as strategic and critical materials, and which have been acquired primarily from imports from abroad.

They are also in general agreement that a substantial part of these materials, most of them mineral in character, are indispensable and essential to peacetime economy and in maintaining preparedness for defense of the nation.

The records (and these are public) show that 80.1 per cent of the present stockpile of strategic minerals and materials have been secured from Africa, Asia, South America and other foreign countries.

Most experts agree that these sources would be closed to permanent access in the event of international war.

The major disagreement lies in whether the United States—until now the greatest producer of mineral wealth in the world—is a "Have or Have-not" nation which must depend upon foreign nations for strategic minerals and materials. The fact seems to be that this country does not know what it has or does not have in mineral resources.

This statement can be supported by the established facts that mineral resource utilization comes about only after (1) prospecting; (2) exploration; and (3) development.

Although the U. S. Geological Survey service has been engaged in mapping activities since 1880, as of January 1, 1954, less than 1 per cent of the land area of the United States has been included in geological investigations; only 12.7 per cent has been geologically mapped; and only 31.1 percent has been topographically mapped by the U. S. Geological Survey.

Most every attempt to aid and promote the domestic mining industry is met with cries of governmental subsidies. Yet we find that the availability of minerals and materials from foreign source has been brought about by our foreign aid programs, stockpile and defense production procurement contracts, lowered tariffs, and the assistance of government mining engineers, metallurgists, and geologists sent abroad to stimulate foreign production.

These activities have resulted in a choking off of the domestic production of a number of minerals and metals, including lead, zinc, antimony, and fluorspar.

The domestic production of tungsten, manganese, chromite, mica, beryl, and asbestos will be in the same category as soon as government purchase programs for these minerals and metals are terminated.

Some feel that the fight against the domestic mining industry finds its source in the fact that some big money in this country is invested in foreign mining activities.

It might be pointed out that the best way to make this country vulnerable would be to make it dependent upon foreign sources for any indispensable mineral or metal.

The first New England newspaper to firmly establish, outside of Boston was the Connecticut Gazette of New Haven, founded in 1755 by James Parker, an associate of Benjamin Franklin.

An old English law stated that the truth of a statement made it none the less libelous. In fact, its being true was an "aggravation of the crime."

By 1735 there were five newspapers in Boston, a town of less than 20,000 population.

Fertilize Lawns 30 Days Before First Fall Freeze

COLLEGE STATION—Lawn grasses will remain green longer in the fall and grow off earlier next spring if given an application of a complete fertilizer at least 30 days before the first expected hard freeze.

Too, E. M. Trew, extension agronomist, says when the lawn grasses go into the winter in a healthy, vigorous condition, winter weeds have less chance to grow and are less of a problem.

If the fertilizer application is made too late, Trew points out that some grass may be lost from a hard freeze and also that the fertilizer cannot be fully utilized by the grass before it goes dormant.

The specialist recommends a fertilizer of the 2-1-1 or 1-1-1 ratio. Application should be made at a rate to supply two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn.

This amount of nitrogen would be supplied by 20 pounds of 10-5-5 or 10-10-10 or 25 pounds of 8-8-8. He adds that some soils do not need potash but since the cost is small, it is good insurance and may give excellent results.

Trew recommends dividing the fertilizer, that is, apply half then spread the remainder at right angles to the first application. This, he says, will help insure even distribution.

Give the lawn a good soaking after the fertilizer has been applied. The grass can't use the plant food without moisture. Soak the soil to a depth of at least six inches or better until the moisture meets.

If the soil is wet when the fertilizer is applied, wash it off the grass onto the soil.

Bermuda lawns are sometimes overseeded with ryegrass to keep the lawn green during the winter but Trew says unless the ryegrass is kept closely clipped, it competes with Bermuda for light, moisture and plant food in the spring.

Italian or annual ryegrass should be used if overseeding is practiced for these plants die in the spring. Finally, Trew says, give the lawn good care now and enjoy its beauty next spring.

UNDER FALSE PRETENSES

"Jack," asked one of the visiting sportsmen of an Arkansas hunter, "do you think that mail-order outfit of yours helps to get more bears?"

"You're darn tootin' it does!" rejoined the veteran hunter.

"How so?" he was asked.

"Well," said Jack, "when them bears see me dressed up like a dude from Memphis they decide right away that I couldn't hit the side of a barn at ten paces, and that, anyhow, I'm pretty sure to be too drunk to do any shootin' a' 'tall. So, they just don't pay no attention to me. I'm able to shoot 'em at point-blank range!"

Early Texas Paper Honored Oct. 1

Opening ceremony for National Newspaper Week in Texas will be the commemoration in Houston of the old Telegraph and Texas Register for the important role that newspaper played in the Texas revolution.

The ceremony will be a part of an "Historic Sites in Texas Journalism" commemoration sponsored annually by the Texas Association of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity. Dates of National Newspaper Week are Oct. 1-8.

First newspaper to attain any degree of permanence in Texas, the Telegraph and Texas Register was established at San Felipe de Austin on Oct. 10, 1835, by Gail and Thomas Borden and Joseph Baker. It rapidly became the official organ of the government of the Republic of Texas.

When Santa Anna's army advanced, the press was moved to Harrisburg but publication was interrupted by the Mexicans and the press was thrown into Buffalo Bayou.

Later in 1836 publication was resumed at Columbia, and in April of 1837 the newspaper again was moved to Houston where it continued publication, with various changes of ownership until 1877.

A bronze plaque paying tribute to the newspaper and its editors was presented by the Texas Press Association at a luncheon in Houston Saturday, sponsored by the Houston Chronicle, Post and Press.

Mac Roy Raso, president of the Texas Association of Sigma Delta Chi, received the plaque from TPA President Russell W. Bryant. He turned it over to Houston civic leaders for placement as an historical marker.

Every newspaper in Texas was invited to send a representative to the luncheon.

Members of the Sigma Delta Chi Historic Sites Committee who planned the commemoration are: Dr. DeWitt C. Reddick, University of Texas School of Journalism, chairman; A. Pat Daniels, former president of the Texas Association of Sigma Delta Chi; C. L. Douglas, Fort Worth Press; Dr. Joe Frantz, University of Texas; Gene Robbins, Houston Chamber of Commerce; William Ruggles, The Dallas Morning News; Vern Sanford, general manager of the Texas Press Association; and L. A. Wilke, Texas Good Roads Association.

Ruthart carried to the Tulia 29, Britain to the 18, Ruthart to the 15, Pruett to the 10 and then to the 4. Boydston pushed to the 1.

Boydston punched over for the seventh touchdown with 6:41 left in the third quarter. Neblett's conversion attempt bounced off the goal post.

Potter attempted another pass which was intercepted by Pruett on the Canyon 28.

Pruett sliced through the opposition and ran 72 yards for the eighth touchdown. Neblett's point was good and the score was 53-0 with 4:18 left in the third quarter.

Tulia took the kickoff and ran back to the 48, worked the ball in seven plays to the Canyon 18 before losing on downs.

The Eagles' Bobby Phillips ran to the 21, Pruett lost two to the 19, then made three to the 22. The third quarter ended, then Pruett kicked to the Tulia 34—the first Canyon punt of the game, good for 44 yards.

Boydston ran to the 8, then fumbled and lost the ball.

Hornet halfback Billy Chandler made one yard, Potter passed incomplete into the end zone, then passed to Chandler on the 5.

Lewis ran the five yards needed for the first Tulia score with 7:58 left in the game. Ward's conversion attempt was no good, and the score was 53-6.

Pruett ran the kickoff back to the 35, Britain took to the Tulia 49, Neblett attempted a pass and Britain ran to the 43.

Neblett attempted another pass, then Britain ran the 43 yards for the ninth Eagle touchdown. Neblett's conversion attempt was no good, and the score was 59-6 with 6:34 left to play.

The Tulia Hornets started a touchdown drive after running the kickoff back to their own 45. In 10 plays, and a penalty, they worked the ball down to the Canyon 11.

The Eagle line began tearing up Tulia pass attempts, pushing the ball back to the 41 in three Potter attempts.

The Hornets kicked to the Canyon 14 and the game ended with the Eagles in possession of the ball on the Canyon 39.

Tulia punted seven times for 221 yards—a 31.6 average. Pruett kicked one time for Canyon for 44 yards.

Canyon attempted seven passes, completed two (one for a score) that were good for 22 yards each. Tulia attempted 14 passes, completed 7 good for 64 yards and had one intercepted.

Both teams lost three fumbles. Neblett ran three times for 38 yards, making a season record of 25 carries for 138 yards—a 5.5 average.

Pruett ran six times for 12 yards, making a season record of 19 carries for 59 yards—averaging 3.1 yards.

P-TA Institute To Be Held Here

Mrs. Ellen Dell Bieler, field worker for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be featured speaker in a leadership training institute on the campus of West Texas State College Monday.

The institute is a cooperative effort of educators and Parent Teacher Associations in the area. All P-TA units in Districts 8 and 19 (formerly District 8) are urged to send delegations to the meeting, which will be held in the Branding Iron Theatre.

The day's activities will open with registration from 9:30 to 10 a. m. Mrs. Bieler will speak at 10 on "The Philosophy, Object, Policies, and Program of the Parent-Teachers Movement."

Her address will be followed by buzz sections at 10:45, and a question and answer period will occupy the rest of the morning.

Luncheon will be served in the Blue Room of the college cafeteria from 12:15-1:15 p. m.

The afternoon's activities include a school of instruction from 1:30-2:30 and a panel discussion on co-operation between home, school, and community from 2:30 to 3:45. Panel members will be Mrs. Crews Henry, Mrs. Margaret Harper, Louise Orr, Dr. Charles Nester, and Bill Baxter.

When Mrs. Bieler joined the staff of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, she had acquired a rich background of Parent-Teacher experience as an active member and leader in local units.

Mrs. Bieler majored in psychology and philosophy at Teachers College, Columbia University, and received a master's degree in human development at the University of Chicago.

She is experienced in teaching and as a counselor in children's camps. In her home town, Western Springs, Ill., she has been active in civic affairs and has served as a member of the library board and the recreation commission.

OBVIOUS

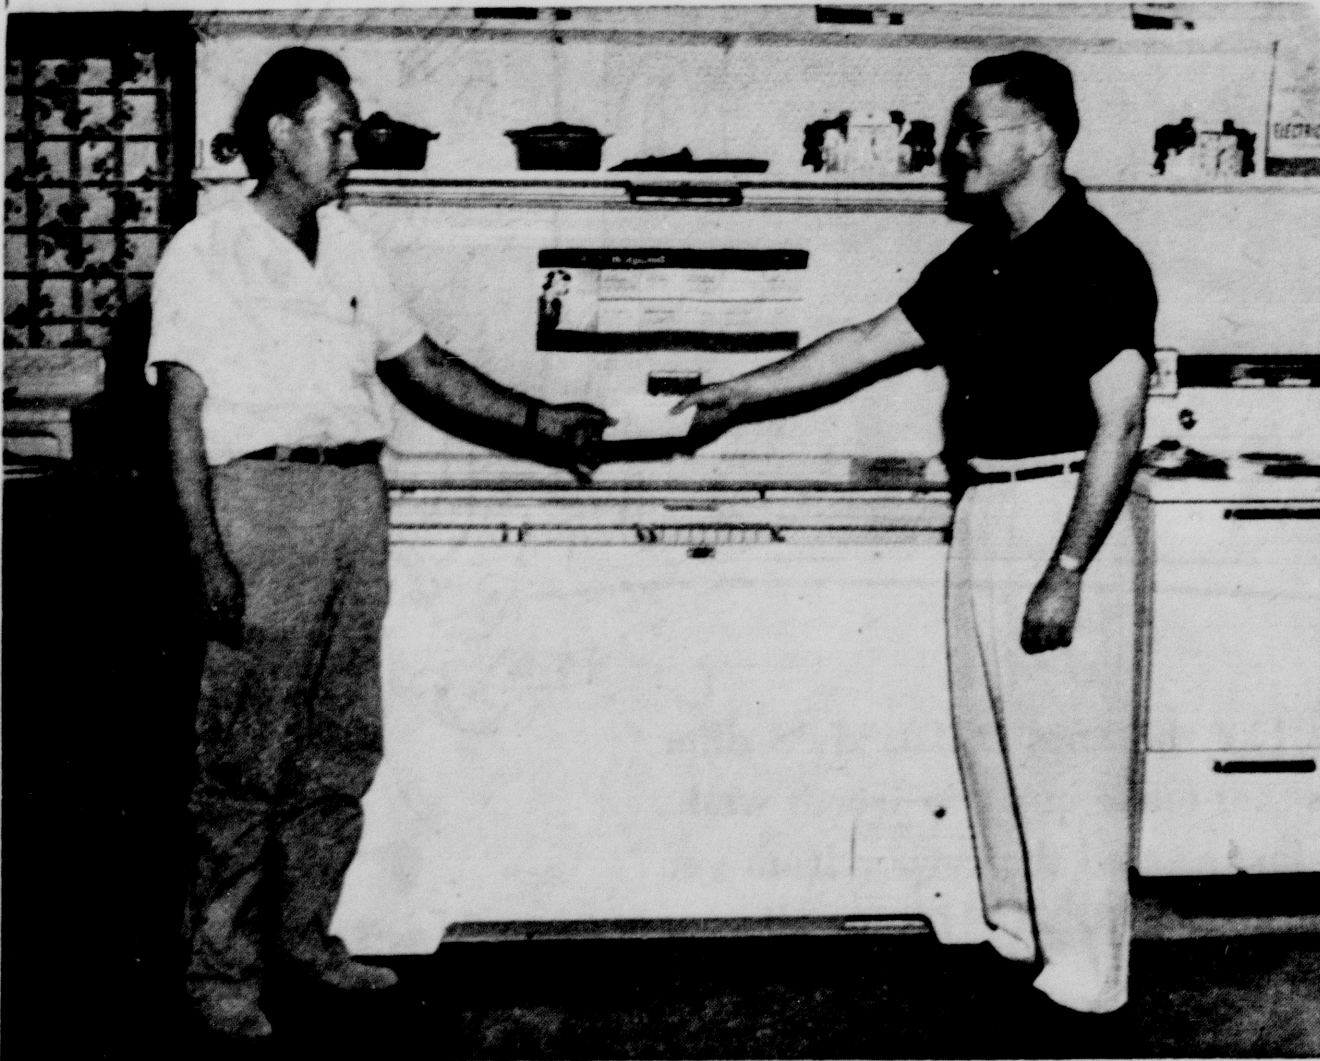

While examining a class in grammar the inspector wrote a sentence on the blackboard and asked if anybody could see anything peculiar about it. After a long pause, one small boy put up his hand.

"Yes," said the inspector encouragingly, "what do you see remarkable about it?"

"Please, sir, the bad writing, sir."

Freezer Winner

Lloyd Childers presents Willie Mac Weaver with a Hotpoint freezer he won in a nationwide contest.

Rowena Funston, Ralph Phelan Exchange Vows in Church Service

Nuptial vows were exchanged in a recent candlelight service by Rowena Mae Funston and Ralph Phelan. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Funston of Medford, Ore., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Merle Jones of Medford and Herman Phelan, Gentry, Ark.

Rev. Floyd Yeats presided over the service in the Temple Baptist Church. The altar was decorated with white gladiolas, white tapers and white wedding bell with satin streamers.

Mrs. Charles Pond, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Earl Covey was bridesmatron. Flower girl was Joyce Jones, sister of the groom, and Gregory Thompson was ring bearer.

Best man was Gerald Phelan, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were James P. Funston and Freddie Funston, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Charles Gilchrist, soloist, was accompanied by Floyd Yeats Jr., who also played the wedding marches and furnished music during the reception.

Mr. Funston gave his daughter in marriage. She was attired in a gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon pleated tulle over slipper satin fashioned with scalloped neckline and quarter length sleeves. The bouffant ballerina length skirt was designed of pleated tulle with an overskirt of Chantilly lace. Her finger-tip length veil of pleated tulle was held by an Elizabethan headdress of white satin and orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom, topped with a white orchid and pink rosebuds.

A reception following the ceremony was given in the church.

Mrs. Phelan attended Canyon High School and West Texas State College. She is employed by the Farrell and Blackhurst Law Firm.

Canyon Man Wins Hotpoint Freezer

Willie Mac Weaver, 2111 Second Ave., was notified last week that he had won a freezer in Hotpoint's $2 million Golden Anniversary national contest.

Lloyd Childers, of Childers Electric Co., Canyon Hotpoint dealer, said official contest judges in Chicago selected Weaver's name as having the best dealer prize entry from this area.

Heavy Fines Given Game Law Violators

AUSTIN—Justices of the Peace fixed the maximum fine of $200 plus court costs on four separate cases charging illegal possession of fawn deer, according to the monthly Game and Fish Commission arrest report.

The crackdown marked an unusual number of complaints about persons picking up newly born deer on the mistaken premise that they had been abandoned. Wildlife authorities caution against this action since female deer would reclaim their offspring after the misguided do-gooders departed.

The maximum fine cases were lodged against persons in Houston, Poteet, Schulenberg and Pasadena (Houston suburb).

In the effort to discourage persons interfering with members of the animal kingdom, the Legislature passed a law making it illegal to possess wild deer and some other species, without a permit.

Another reason for discouraging attempts to domesticate wild animals is that they oftentimes become nuisances and in many instances become actually dangerous after growing up and becoming frustrated in captivity.

The monthly report reflected stern court action against some flagrant violations such as a Pampa citizen who was fined $150 plus court costs for shooting a wild turkey out of season and a Borger man fined $200 for hunting antelope before the season opened.

Some other violations, reflecting common problems of the fall wildlife harvest, concerned shooting from automobiles, exceeding the dove limit, using a shotgun without the three-shell plug device, shooting ducks out of season, and hunting without a license.

Game wardens had some problems with forgetful fishermen, since 101 persons were fined for fishing without a license. Four of the five persons charged with "telephoning fish," or using an electrical device to shock fish were fined $50 and court costs.

A seldom used law was used in prosecuting an Atlanta, Texas, man for driving a motor boat at a dangerous rate of speed on Lake Caddo.

Some of the commercial dealers got into trouble and three Houston men were fined $100 each plus costs for selling shrimp without a license. A Port Isabel man got a similar penalty, plus the loss of his dealers' license, for selling oysters in unsanitary containers.

Talbert expects good U. S. Davis Cup team in '56.

Soil Conservation District Views

Your Soil Conservation District is a subdivision of the state government. It is completely independent of the federal government or any part of the state government other than the law under which it is created.

There are over 2600 Soil Conservation Districts, or 80% of the farm land in operation as districts today.

The Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District is concerned with re-vegetation of cropland that shouldn't have been broken out. We have about 800 acres of this type land in the district.

This type of land should be in permanent cover due to the depth of soil, degree of erosion, steepness of slope or other features.

The best way to seed grass is in a cover of a previous crop of sudan or similar crop. Adapted grasses for this type of land include buffalo, blue gramma, sideoats gramma, crested or western wheat, and a small portion of Indian or switch.

Warm season grasses should be seeded in the spring and cool season grasses should be seeded in the fall of the year.

Report Kills of Banded Game

AUSTIN—Texas hunters were asked by E. A. Walker, director of wildlife restoration for the Game and Fish Commission, to report bagging banded or tagged game.

He said the principal purpose of marking birds and other animals is to help technicians trace migratory habits of the game and to accumulate other vital data which can be used in wildlife management.

A TIMELY REMINDER

"Father," said young William, "I've decided to become a detective. Right now I'm practicing the art of detection. Let me give you an example. In our back yard there is a large pile of ashes. By deduction that is evidence that we've had fires going all winter." "Very good," rejoined father, "suppose you go out and sift the evidence."

MR. AND MRS. JAMES SCOTT

Peggy Bonds Marries James Scott In Recent Double-Ring Ceremony

The Joseph A. Hill Chapel was the scene Sept. 24 for the marriage of Peggy Bonds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bonds, and James Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Scott of Borger.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the double-ring ceremony in the chapel decorated with baskets of pink and white gladiolas, the bride's chosen colors.

Mrs. Ray Graham, organist, played for the prelude "I Love You Truly," "Always," and "Because." She also played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Thelma Fulton singing, "Bless This House," "If I Could Tell You," and the benediction, "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Glenda Rhotan, attired in pink over rose crystalin, was matron of honor. Her flowers were pink carnations. Bridesmaids Barbara Beck and Janelda Cunningham wore dresses identical to that of the matron of honor only over pink taffeta. Their corsages were rose carnations.

Best man was Johnny George and groomsmen were Ray Burrus and James Morgan. Given in marriage by her uncle, the bride wore a white waltz length dress of nylon tulle and lace with a matching lace jacket and mitts. Her headdress was tulle on a tiara of seed pearls.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a cutwork linen over which Mrs. Marvin Axe served the wedding cake and Mrs. Robert McClendon poured the punch. Approximately 75 guests were registered by Mrs. Ray Burrus.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a brown and beige suit with matching brown accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott are at home in Wichita, Kan., where he is employed with the Beech Craft Corporation.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. M. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Waden and Leclure of Clere, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Scott and Mrs. Hadie Gunter of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Swan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Scott of Borger.

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of The Canyon News of Oct. 2, 1930.)

Oklahoma Central Teachers College handed the Buffs a "slight defeat" in the first game of the season. The score was 7-0. Panhandle A&M was next on the schedule.

The Eagles fared better. They beat the Amarillo Yannisians 7-0, and were scheduled to face Pampa next.

A citizen's meeting was scheduled for Sunday to consider purchasing 10 more acres for Dreamland Cemetery.

The lack of right-of-way was holding up construction of a highway to Hereford, while paving of the highway to Happy was postponed until spring because of the drought. The highway department engineers thought the lack of rain had kept the base from packing as it should.

Bob Jarrett was elected president of the junior class at West Texas State. Others elected included Audrey Cayton, secretary, and John Gillham, student council representative.

Bettie Jean Graham Honored at Baylor

Bettie Jean Graham, an education student at Baylor University, was recently elected by the senior class to represent the class as Jurymen on the Student Court.

Miss Graham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham of Happy. She is a graduate of Canyon High School.

At Baylor she is a member of the Rhapsody in White, a campus choral group, the Baylor Religious Hour Choir, Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority. In the spring she was the Junior representative for the annual Ring-Out ceremony, and was secretary of the junior class.

The Navy will fall back upon the draft for the first time since World War II to meet manpower requirements. It seeks 56,000 men by next May.

Quail Hunting Should be Good

AUSTIN—Texas hunters this fall should be able to notice gains in the quail population because of favorable weather and general habitat improvement, reports E. A. Walker, director of wildlife restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the primary cause of the popular game bird's comeback has been increased rainfall and consequent benefits to cover and feed. However, he noted that public interest in habitat improvement has been a factor which should become more profound from now on.

"We are going to have some pretty good quail shooting in places this fall," said Walker. "Field men report substantial increases in many areas. One of the favored places in the Panhandle."

The Game and Fish Commission lately has encouraged its wardens to consult with sportsmen's groups and landowners on restoring quail habitat.

Rattler Angle Alerts Hunters

AUSTIN—Dove hunters have reported so many narrow escapes from rattlesnakes that Howard Dodger, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, cautioned city folks unfamiliar with the outdoors against "walking without watching."

"There probably are no more rattlers but just more hunters," observed Dodger. "Anyway, it won't hurt for the folks to be more observing about snakes as well as everything else. Thus they will protect themselves and get more generally from their fall contact with nature."

A Texarkana hunter got some sport from a hassle with two rattlers. He lined up their heads and got both with one shot.

There is a possibility that bats, normally considered beneficial creatures because of their ceaseless war on the insect population, may sometimes be carriers of rabies. If bats seem unduly combative, farmers should rid the premises of them, according to T. H. Parks, extension entomologist at Ohio State University.

Moore Leaves For Grad Study

William A. Moore, associate professor of speech at West Texas State College, has been granted a year's leave of absence for advanced study at the University of Michigan.

Moore, who expects to complete requirements on his doctorate this year, will return to the WT campus to teach in September, 1956. During his absence, his wife, Mrs. Margaret Echols

Moore, will teach his classes and direct WT dramatics, President James P. Cornette said.

After study at the University of Michigan this summer, Moore decided last week to return to Ann Arbor this fall to complete his year's residence requirements.

Mrs. Moore has assisted her husband with WT dramatics for several years, particularly with Summer Theatre productions. She has acted in and directed many little theatre groups, and has been especially active with the Amarillo Little Theatre.

She is scheduled to direct "The Moon is Blue" in February for the A.L.T.

Mrs. Moore is a graduate of Oklahoma College for Women, where she earned the B.A. degree, and the University of Michigan with the M.A.

She has judged dramatics competition throughout the Panhandle for a number of years, and formerly taught in McAlister, Okla.

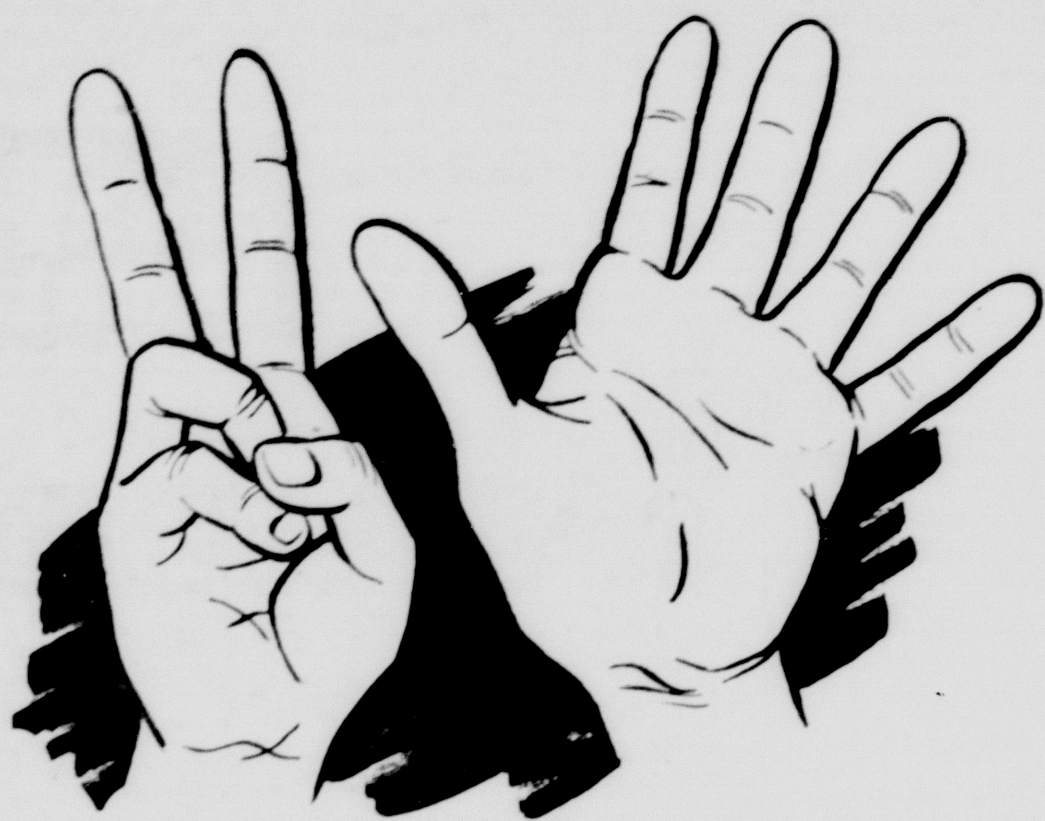

She will supervise a major drama production at WT in November, and will direct activities of the Buffalo Masquers, WT dramatics club.

"TWO-FIVE" IS COMING TO CANYON

NATION-WIDE "2-LETTER, 5-NUMERAL" TELEPHONE NUMBERING SYSTEM TO BE INTRODUCED NOVEMBER 6

ALL CANYON telephone numbers will have a "new look" when the nation-wide "2-5" telephone numbering system is introduced here on Sunday, November 6.

The new "2-5" numbering plan simply means that all telephone numbers here will include two letters and five numerals.

Nearly all telephone numbers here will have the same five numerals they now have, and will be preceded by the first two letters of the central office name, OLIVE. For example, the telephone number 5-1534 will become OLIVE 5-1534 on November 6, and you'll dial O-L-5-1-5-3-4.

A very few telephone numbers may have to be changed entirely because of technical reasons.

A new edition of the telephone directory — listing all the new "2-5" numbers — will be delivered just before the new numbering plan goes into effect.

The new central office name ... OLIVE ... is needed so that telephone numbers here will conform to the standard nationwide numbering plan. Two-letter, five-numeral telephone numbers here will help pave the way for Canyon to join the nationwide long distance dialing network.

Long distance operators handling Canyon calls then will be able to dial direct to 2,500 other cities on the dialing network... without the aid of a distant operator. Most calls handled by this method will go through in one minute, or less.

We are proud to announce the coming addition of Canyon to the nation-wide "2-5" numbering plan, and we are sure you will like the increased speed and efficiency of your long distance telephone service.

State Capitol NEWS

AUSTIN—Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, kept his political thoughts and hopes mostly to himself during his Texas visit.

He made only a left-handed jibe at political foe Gov. Allan Shivers. Shivers has said he will not support Stevenson if he is the '56 presidential nominee.

In his University of Texas lecture, Stevenson said that, while not a full-time economic expert, he is a "full-time Democrat." He sidestepped a question from the audience on Texas tidelands, issue on which he and Shivers broke in 1952.

Stevenson was joined by Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn in an overnight visit at U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's farm. Plane schedules allowed the three top-level Democratic leaders very little time to discuss their party's brightened prospects. They all disclaimed any political significance in the get-together.

Johnson and Rayburn said no change in Democratic Congressional tactics is planned as a result of President Eisenhower's heart attack. They said Democratic leaders would, nevertheless, try to draft a Congressional program that will put a Democrat in the White House.

Apparently well on the road to recovery from his own heart attack, Johnson sent a telegram inviting President Eisenhower to Texas to hunt with him. Shivers Criticizes Court Last year's desegregation ruling by the U. S. Supreme Court was part of a long series of moves toward centralized government, Gov. Shivers contends.

U. S. Supreme Court justices "stepped out of their judicial robes" in their desegregation decision, he said. "Nine men, sitting 2,000 miles away, are not going to tell Crossroads, Texas, how they are going to run their schools," the Governor emphasized.

Shivers spoke at a meeting of oil well drillers in Houston, at the same time Adlai Stevenson addressed an Austin audience.

Earlier he pointed out the court ruling can be overridden by act of Congress or amendment to the U. S. Constitution. He cited recent tidelands legislation as an example.

Political Speculation

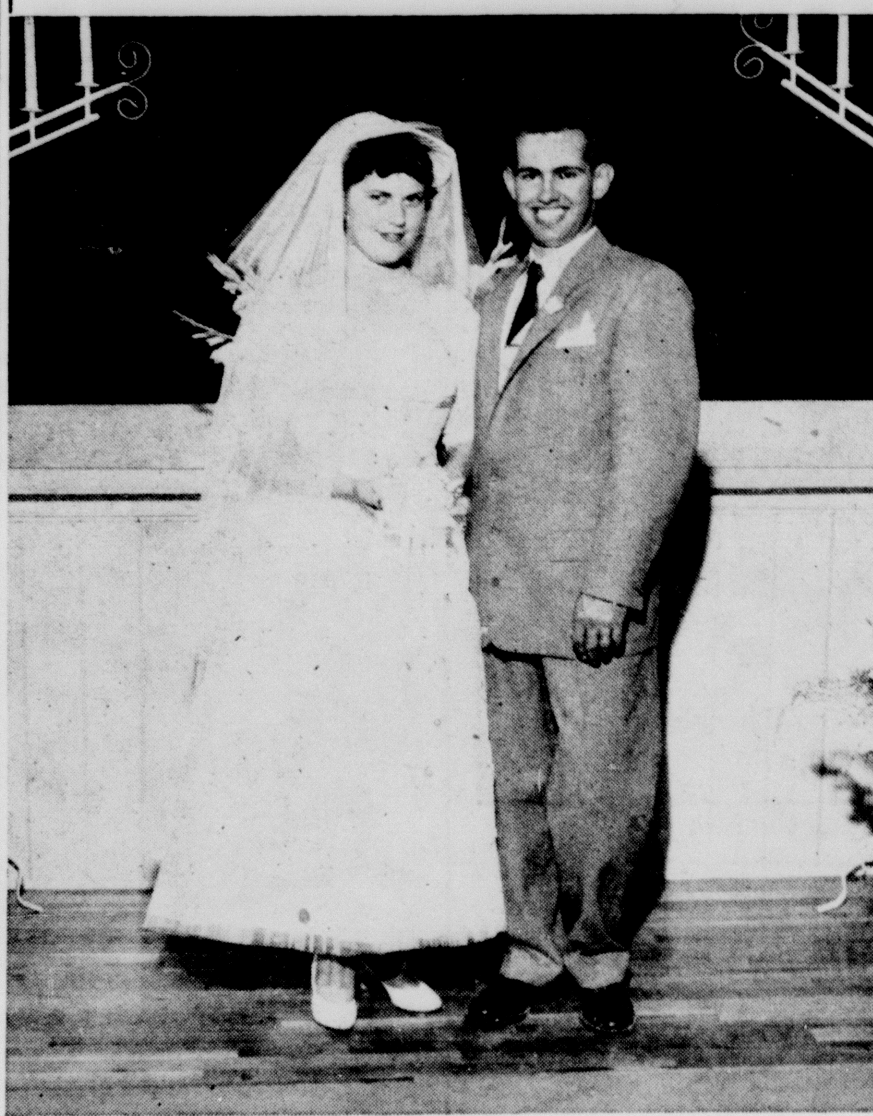

Sen. Price Daniel has indicated he may disclose his political plans during a series of speeches scheduled in Texas during November. He has kept the door open for a possible race for governor next year. His Senate term still has two years to go.

Meanwhile, Daniel will open hearings of the Senate judiciary sub-committee on narcotics in Austin, Oct. 12, and will hold other hearings in San Antonio, Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Political speculation has swung toward the idea that Gov. Allan Shivers and other top office-holders may choose to seek re-election next year. Shivers for a fourth elective term.

Among the possibilities were Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey, Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, and Agri. Comm. John C. White. The same speculation hinted that possibly U. S. Sen. Daniel might decide against the governor's race for which he has been discussed.

Gov. Shivers decision to run for re-election would greatly thin the ranks of prospective candidates. So far, only former Speaker Reuben Senterfitt has announced.

Ralph Yarborough, twice defeated for the office, is regarded as a certain candidate. White and State Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton are probable entrants.

Teachers Due Jury Duty

This fall, for the first time in Texas history, some school teachers will have to interrupt the three R's to answer jury summonses.

Legislators, apparently by an oversight, deprived them of their traditional exemption. Jury service laws were rewritten last session after constitutional amendment made women eligible for duty.

Old laws, specifically exempting "school masters," had been interpreted as meaning all teachers. That new statutes had dropped this classification did not come to light until school and fall court sessions began.

Teachers summoned are expected to seek reprieve on the grounds that their absence would work a hardship on their schools.

Radar Reduces Accidents

Radar, says Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr., has had a pronounced psychological effect, slowing down highway speeders wherever it is used.

Fatalities on major routes were down six per cent for the first eight months of the year, Garrison pointed out.

Total number killed this year is expected to be up two or three per cent because of increased fatalities on farm-to-market and other secondary roads.

The highway department said surveys show that 12 per cent of Texas motorists were exceeding the speed limit in checks this year.

Building Planners Hired

A professional planning firm has been employed by the State Building Commission to map out a long-range program for housing the state government.

An orderly building program covering needs for the next 25 to 50 years is the goal, said Gov. Shivers, chairman of the commission.

He said he favors a government center built around the Capitol, rather than the aimless sprinkling of buildings.

Funds already have been appropriated for a new state courts and office building and for partial air conditioning and remodeling of the Capitol.

Short Snorts

Texas' 31 state senators reported they spent $43,756 of state money for expenses this year. Highest was Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, who reported $4,189. Lowest was Sen. R. A. Weinert of Seguin who spent $402. Ben H. Carpenter of Dallas was named by Gov. Shivers as temporary president of the Trinity River Authority, new state agency. Texas business activity in August was within two points of the all-time high.

SPEAKING OF UNIONS

"Hey, what are you doing?" yelled the foreman. "I'm just sharpening a pencil," called back the bricklayer. "Well, don't let anybody see you. That's a carpenter's job, you know."

Four times last week we heard some woman say, "I just don't have any time!"

One takes no part in community or club affairs, doesn't play bridge or spend many hours in social outlets. She has part-time help for three grown-ups. But she wants to write, and instead of enjoying it works at it to the point of frustration.

Another does all the housework in a small home for herself and spouse, is active in half a dozen organizations, is forever doing something for some friend, and spends many hours a week with her "crowd." She has hobbies, too, several of them, and right now is doing her first "pay job" — weaving a tremendous rag rug for a new home. Faced with a book review a whole month away, she has stage fright.

The third, a widow whose only daughter is away in college, gives a lot of time to her church, some to clubs and to friends, and does the "paper work" for the farm, her husband left. She has just refused an added church job that would depress her and her conscience is uneasy.

The fourth, a teacher, church worker, member of many professional and study clubs, rarely has an hour in the waking day which is not planned or spoken for. She has doubtless reached the saturation point on what she can crowd

Winning Exhibit in Tri-State Fair Built by Canyon Future Farmers

Representatives of the Canyon Future Farmers of America, winners of the $65 award for the top exhibit at the Tri-State Fair, appeared on KGNC-TV Sept. 28. Appearing were Edward Hinders, president of the Canyon FFA chapter and secretary of Area I, Arvie Marshall, and Carroll Wright.

Also Ann Moore, FFA Sweetheart, Faye Lowrey, attendant, and G. D. Inman and T. L. Devin, agriculture instructors at Canyon High School, were interviewed.

The exhibit, entitled Legumes Make the Difference, was planned and built during vocational agriculture classes by the FFA boys. The idea was taken from a soil bulletin, and the exhibit showed how legume plants help restore nitrogen to the soil. About two weeks time was used to prepare the display.

The judges awarded first place prize to the Canyon display because it was eye-catching, neat, clear, on one subject, brief, simple and brought an important message to the attention of the farmers. All of the samples used in the exhibit were prepared by the boys.

There were seven individual winners from Canyon.

Jack Campbell: Grand Champion female, grand champion male. 1st young herd, 1st pen of three with Spotted Poland China; 3rd, 4th barrow.

Jeo Carver: 1st senior yearling heifer, reserve junior champion with Guernsey.

Walter Cramer: 3rd with Duroc Boar; 4th with Duroc gilt in the open show.

Jimmy Hales: 1st with Holstein heifer, and 1st in the junior show. Jack Metcalf: Reserve junior champion. 2nd and 3rd with Poland China Gilt.

Glen Tupek: 1st pen of three, 2nd and 4th in the open show with Poland China Barrows.

Joe Winstead: 3rd, 4th in the open show with Duroc Barrow; 3rd in the junior show with Hampshire Boar.

Bulldogs Bounce B Squad Eagles

The Canyon B team lost their first decision of the football season last Thursday as the Borger Bulldog C team blanked them 18-0 on the Eagles home field.

Borger took a 6-0 first half lead on a 25 yard touchdown pass. The try for extra point failed.

In the third Borger scored again, this time on a 35 yard aerial. The Borgans scored their final touchdown on the last play of the game with a 10 yard touchdown pass to bring the final count to 18-0. The Canyon crew moved good on the ground but loss of the ball seven times on fumbles and penalties halted every scoring threat they could muster.

The Borgans could not move on the ground as a stubborn Canyon forward wall held them in check but they scored easily after taking to the air.

Eagle B squad won their second straight game of the season two weeks ago when they edged a bigger Muleshoe eleven, 7-0, on a rain-swept field laden with mud and water.

The B squad struck by taking the opening kickoff and driving 80 yards to score with Eddie Boydston and Donny Ford packing the leather most of the way. Craig Hinger scored on a six yard keep play just as the first quarter ended. Donny Ford plunged for the extra point to give Canyon a 7-0 lead.

The Muleshoe team was composed of the varsity squad reserves, most of whom were juniors and seniors but the less experienced freshman leaden B squad moved the heavy Mules with ease. The B squad was on the Muleshoe two yard line at halftime and threatened again by driving to the Mules' six as the final gun sounded.

Roy Hunter stood out in the B squad line.

The oldest newspaper in America today is the Newport, Rhode Island Mercury, which was founded in 1758 by young James Franklin with the aid of his Uncle Benjamin.

The first printing press in Philadelphia was set up by William Bradford in 1685 just two years after the town was settled.

FFA Exhibit

MR. WELLS SAYS:

Those students taking Algebra II, Plane Geometry, Driver's Education, may receive help from 8-8:30, 9:45-10:45, and after 3:30 in the afternoon, or by appointment at his home at 1101 Fifth Avenue.

Intramurals Begin Classes Compete

Intramurals in Canyon High School began Oct. 3, with each class competing for the annual trophy. Sports contests will be washers, horseshoes, volleyball, table tennis and softball.

Hubert Green, chairman, selected two representatives from each class. Representing are: seniors, Joan Payne, Eugene Boston; juniors, Don Britain, Mary Sue Bolton; sophomores, Arthur Pruett and Carolyn Glanton; and freshmen, Eddie Boydston and Bernice Green.

Participation in contests began with washer pitching. Contests will vary in length according to the type of competition.

One point will be given for each individual registering for the activity. There will be a three point forfeit for anyone who withdraws after registering. For each game won one point will be given. The team which wins first place is awarded five points. Three points will be given for second place, two points for third place, and one point for fourth place.

Library Regulations Reviewed, Reader's Guide Service Initiated

Reader's Guide service is being launched in Canyon High School this year. Mrs. Nora Gilmore, high school librarian, announced Sept. 28 that the high school library will now be equipped with a reader's guide which will be available to all high school students. Each publication of 11 major magazines will be saved for reference material.

Magazines in the guide service which may be found in the library are: American Magazine, Ladies Home Journal, Life, National Geographic Magazine, Reader's Digest, Saturday Evening Post, Saturday Review, Science Digest, Science News Letter, Time, and United States News and World Report.

George Alexander, Dora Jean Gaylor, Frances Boyd, Tillie Ruggles and Carrie Belle Ruggles have been appointed by Mrs. Gilmore to act as library assistants for the 1955-56 school year. Students needing assistance in the library may feel free to ask for their help.

Because of the large number of new students in Canyon High School many students may need to refer to the library rules listed below.

The library opens at 8:20 and closes at 3:45.

A book may be checked out for one week with the privilege of having it renewed for a second week, if the book is not in too great demand; special books have a limit of time, may not be kept overtime, and when kept overtime carry a ten cent a day fine.

Encyclopedias and other reference books are to be used in the library. This type of reference material is not to be checked out overnight.

Such periodicals as Life, Saturday Evening Post, and Popular Mechanics may be checked out for only one period.

English classics are checked out for one week, but, in some cases, may be renewed by obtaining a permit from the instructor.

It is universally accepted as a good library practice to be SILENT IN THE LIBRARY. All students

Junior Salesmen Boost Magazines

"Sir, would you buy a magazine subscription and help the junior class?"

With that and similar statements the juniors launched the annual two week subscription sales on Sept. 21.

On most of the magazines the amount received by the eleventh graders is 30% of the purchase price. However, the class receives 50% of the cost on The Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal, and Holiday magazines.

Prizes will be given to the person selling the most subscriptions on the first day and to the high salesman at each $500 level, starting at $1500. All persons selling their quota of $40 or four subscriptions to the Post, Journal or Holiday, were treated to an ice cream feed Sept. 26.

The Curtis Publishing Company has made an arrangement with the high schools in this area whereby a percentage of the subscription price goes to the class which sponsors the drive.

The class split into two sides for a sales contest, the Reds and the Blues, and will have a social at the end of the battle with the losing side paying expenses.

High School Band Chooses Officers

Newly elected Eagle band officers for 1955-56 are Wilford Taylor, president, Dana Wilbanks, vice president, Frances Boyd, secretary, Mayla Atkinson, treasurer, John Mann, freshman representative, Carolyn Glanton, sophomore representative, Martha Harding, junior representative, and Johnny Weeks, senior representative.

Besides electing officers, the band has been busy with various activities. The 63 members have been marching and playing for the public at parades, snake dances, pep rallies, assemblies, and football games.

The date of the marching contest this year is Oct. 25 for the bands in this region instead of in the spring, as is customary. The directors made this change so the contest will coincide with the season that the bands generally do most of their marching.

To prepare for this contest, the Eagle band has been emphasizing military drill in various marching routines. Extra rehearsals at 7:15 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. are being held to help the band gain new skills and further its knowledge of correct procedure.

The band has many varied plans for the year. The first concert will be in the early part of February, at which time the Band Queen Coronation will take place. Another activity is the participation in district contests and festivals.

Baking Entries Win Honors For Sisters

Sisters, Carrie Bell and Tillie Ruggles, won first and second places respectively, with their baking entries in the Tri-State Fair this year.

Carrie Bell won first place in the pastry division with a cheese pie and Tillie placed second in the chocolate cake division with a devil's food cake.

Both Carrie Bell and Tillie, members of the Canyon Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America, have earned their junior degrees. Homemaking students in Canyon High School spend one semester each year studying foods and its preparation.

This was the first year for either of the girls to enter foods in the contest.

INSULTED

The fancy dress dance was over and the local gossips were comparing notes.

"Mrs. Smithington-Smyth looks upset, don't you think?" said one, gloatingly.

"Yes, my dear, she came as an Hawaiian beauty, with grass skirts and all — and they awarded her first prize in the humorous section as 'The Old Thatched Cottage.'"

A copy of these library regulations may be found on page 16 of the Student Handbook.

School

Words, numbers, blackboards, chalk,

All one ever hears is school talk. Girls chit-chatting, Boys nip-napping.

Teachers trying to pound knowledge into our brains, Principals trying to keep up our aims.

Coaches hollering out plays to the line,

To boys whose heads are like knotted pine.

A good place to get an education, A good place to build a reputation.

—Perry Slagle

August chain store sales were 11.6 per cent over 1954 level.

Green and Neblett Voted Presiding Posts in Student Faculty Congress

Hubert Green and Charles Neblett were elected to the posts of president and vice president of the Student-Faculty Congress during the first period Thursday, Sept. 29, after a week-long campaign.

Hubert, a senior and last year's vice president of the SFC, was unopposed after his political rival, Garland Ruthart, withdrew. Hubert was president of the freshman class and is an active participant in sports. He was elected co-captain for this year's football team.

Charles Neblett, the new SFC vice president, is quarterback on the football squad this year. He was freshman class favorite and sophomore SFC representative.

A nominating assembly was held Sept. 21 at which time two names from the senior class were presented for election as president and two names were put before the student body as possibilities for vice president. Ralph Miller, senior SFC representative, presided.

The campaign assembly was held Sept. 28, since Hubert was unopposed. His campaign managers did not make speeches. Virginia Walker and Gerald Free, who acted as Cecilia Waters' managers, gave her life history and promises. Tom Wilbanks and Jackie Pruett delivered Charles' pledges.

Representatives from the SFC passed among the classes Thursday with ballots and an election box. Mr. Ray C. Wells, mathematics instructor, is SFC sponsor.

State Fair Extends Invitation to Choir

An invitation to appear at the State Fair in Dallas was extended to the Canyon High School choir to be one of the two choirs to represent Region XI in the music festival on Oct. 11.

Choirs were chosen by each of the 11 regions. Because both girls choirs of Canyon High won sweepstakes awards last year, they were given the opportunity to display their talents.

Approximately 22 choirs will attend the festival. The choirs will appear in concert on Tuesday night. Each group will be in performance on Tuesday afternoon in different buildings on the fair-ground.

It was not possible to accept the invitation, however, as the choir had only one day for decision and the school budget had been made at a previous time. Therefore, the expense of sending 30 girls to Dallas was not plausible at short notice.

Rosalie Frische German Records

How would you like to visit Europe? This summer I had this wonderful experience.

I flew by way of the Trans World Airlines and German Lufthanna. On my journey I visited Newfoundland, Ireland, England, and Germany. When I first arrived in Germany, I got the impression that I would not like it there because of the wet climate and the different customs of the people, but I soon changed my mind because the people were so friendly.

One thing I enjoyed very much was the beautiful scenery.

On every farm there was a grove of shrubs and trees, used for building and fire wood. Where I stayed the land was flat with very few hills. Both towns and farms are small and located close together. Transportation plays an important part in Germany as it does in America. The types of transportation used in Germany are trains, automobiles, airplanes, and a few ships.

Better roads are urgently needed for the heavy traffic. The roads are severely damaged every winter by the hard freezes. German made cars are very small and light. Bicycles are used in great numbers, but bicycling is often dangerous because of the many rains that keep the brick pavement slippery, causing many accidents.

Most of the population works in factories or on farms. Farmers raise rye, wheat, clover, and vegetables. In the last few years there has been an increase in the number of dairies.

The towns are built around two or three small factories where the townspeople work.

Although the people of this country are hard workers, they do not forget their recreation. Young people bowl, dance, attend movies, and go swimming. Older people like to go sightseeing and to visit neighbors.

Germans and Americans have many things in common. I found that most Germans are friendly and appreciate the help America has given them. Germany is working hard to secure peace.

I hope that anyone else who gets the chance to go to Europe will take advantage of the opportunity. It is a wonderful trip and helps you to appreciate the freedom of living in America.

The Rhode Island Gazette was founded in Newport in 1732 by James Franklin, older brother of the more famous Benjamin.

Class Pictures

Pictures for Soaring Wings, the school annual, will be made Oct. 7 in the auditorium. Photographs of each member of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes will be made by Mr. Pat Britain, local photographer.

A nominal fee of 50 cents will be charged each student in order to meet expenses. Annual staff members will collect the fee and register the students.

Senior class pictures will be taken at a later date. Complete arrangements are not known at this time.

Leake Presents Music Program

Virginia Leake presented her senior piano recital Sunday, Oct. 2, in the Branding Iron Theatre.

The numbers played by Miss Leake were: "Two Part Invention No. 8," Bach; "Sonata Op. 20 No. 1, Allegro, Andante, Rondo," Kuhlau; "Waltz," Tchaikovsky; "Polka," "German Song," "Neapolitan," "Day in Venice," Nevin; "Poem," Fibich; "Blues in 3/4 Time," Moore; "Danza Lucumi," Lecuona.

Kay Leake, cousin of the pianist from Bovina, sang "Till the Dawn Breaks Through" by Kountz and "I Heard a Forest Praying" by Peter De Rose.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by Mrs. Felix Pierce, Mrs. Newton Crain, and Mrs. Dick Lowrey.

Members of the house party were Faye Lowrey, Joan Payne, Nancy Tomlinson, Diane Prichard, and Charlotte Crain.

Miss Leake's piano student of Mrs. Houston Bright, is a senior this year.

Profitable Party Plugs Promotion

"Work hard and play hard" seems to be the motto of the junior class. Chocolate milk and cookies were served to about 30 members of the class after a profitable hour-and-a-half promotion of the magazine sales sponsored by the juniors.

Dividing into six groups, the class members scoured the separate sections of town soliciting subscriptions for the annual magazine sales campaign. A total slightly over $189 was collected. The junior class sponsors, Mrs. Clara Long and Mr. Don Briggs, supervised the night's activities.

The first continuously published American newspaper was the Boston News-Letter, founded by John Campbell on April 24, 1704.

Industrial production broke record in August.
